for the Markets. Tho in other respects I feel confident of enduring satisfaction - and in my advice shall endeavor to be Correct and Induce it to Error -

I. Lisle must be armed before this at N York where you will probably see him - I don't know either. He communicated to You his intentions in going for the Continent report says it was to Shun the Execution of the Law - he never Mentioned it to me - if such were his intentions, it would have been fair for to have Mentioned it, as I certainly have more claim in case Mr. Dobbs does not come here - If Mr. I. L has applyed I am inclined to believe its through the Interest of Mr Melvill & Mr Dobbs and that it is not Mr D's intention to come here - will you make some inquiry into this Important affair. Mr L has a right to ask so bad as any other person equal with my self - but there are Circumstances relative to the appointment & the Correspondence of Mr D. that should have led Mr L. to communicate - If Mr L applys under adulteration that Mr D will not come here I shall think it strange if the Appointment is not offered me - and feel anxious to hear from Lisle - Who I wrote to some time since not knowing of his intentions but at the time I should have asked the question - In your letter indulge me with a price Current & am hoping to hear frequently from you & I am with proper regard Dear Sir Your Hble Servt
