and my dear grandson George is very exhilirating:- As for George - I pray you not hurry him - you should recollect, that he has in his veins some of the blood of the Wolcotts, and my Grandfather, used to say that they never came to be of age, till forty. - They are however very long lived and are supposed to be very wise in their old age. The Country Court sits next Week and I will look out for an Overseer. - There are enough who would be glad of such an opportunity, but [illegible] would not work.
The Enterprize of this State, has in a great measure, waporated, or migrated.

Dear Laura.

I am glad to hear that you are well and of your fine prospects - take good care of yourself & remember my advice - The Egg Plant will not do ~~good~~ well here - as we are yet under Snow & frost - I will send you Peas Beans & several other matters - I will write respecting Shrubs when the Frost leaves us - Oliver has written to me at last - all the accounts from him are, that he has studied & behaved very well and that passed an Examination of an 18mo course with great Credit - His inclination for the Navy continues - write to him with commendation if you can - John sends Love yrs affy
