Newport August 2d.

After waiting a week my Dear Brother in Hartford for some person to meet me I thought it most advisable to take Olivia & leave by travel on — I hope it has not been displeasing to his father, you must see my apology to him — I am watchful of him & I think is under as much restraint here as at home — as he had partly the promise of a visit in Boston from his father — I thought it would be pleasing for me to take him there for a few days & I shall look for some acquaintance going on in the stage that would admit him at any time that he might — he is so young I should feel anxious in sending him alone — On Friday we go to Boston — I shall give him money for his expenses
