The Carpet, has been rec.d and I like it well. I wish you to inform me, the balance I owe on account of Laurys late purchases for me, that I may repay it to you.

I agree with you, that Europe is menaced with another convulsion; — if the English adhere to the Queen although convinced of her Guilt it is a proof of desperate hostility to the Government, of a most dangerous character.

The meetings and consultations of kings & Emperors, are rather symptoms, that they fear the progress of popular sentiment in opposition to their authority, than indications of cordiality & friendship among themselves and will be so understood by their Subjects.

When you are in Boston, please to enquire, respecting their Lace manufactory; whether it is a new invention and whether it promises to be of any consequence to the Country.

Also enquire respecting the new Machine for cleaning Flax, which I have no doubt is valuable — was it introduced from England or France? has it been used in this
