teacher of deserved reputation. He is a native of France & has already had several years experience as an instructer. We have thus far been disappointed in all attempts to obtain a Spanish teacher, but are in quest of one, & shall not relinquish our pursuit till we find one. It comes within our design to teach the Italian to all or nearly all who come to us, if time will be long enough to find time for it, and have already an instructer in view, who is prepared to go to us, whenever we are in a condition to employ him. We hope eventually to be able to send out to Germany for a regularly-bred German scholar; but as this is only projected, both Mrs Copwell & myself are prepared to teach that language.

To such as are fit to learn it, and we have both been for so many residents in Germany, that we should undertake to instruct in it without hesitation. For the ancient languages we give to them much time & labor; but we do not make Latin & Greek verses, nor do we profess to teach to write a pure Latin style; but we take pains, that our boys may be able to read the Latin authors with the most careful accuracy; & the Greek also, where it seems practicable & the parents do not express a desire to the contrary.

Dr C. observes to us, that you make inquiries with a view to your son. It would certainly be an honor to us, to have your son in the number of our pupils. At the present moment our family