It is regarded by him as monumental & the inscription over the door

TRUMBULL GALLERY (outside) in many silver letters upon a basis of iron fastened by iron bolts & lead into the stone work so as to become with the building commemorative both of him & his works.

When bol Gibbs' cabinet was purchased by the corporation of Y. C. [illegible] would be kept together & called the Gibbs Cabinet.

It is (as perhaps you know) in a new handsome stone building & if a similar inscription of that of bol Trumbull were placed over the door (outside) the two would form a perfect parallel & keep stand contiguous in one row.

An inscription also upon the meteoric iron. or upon a metallic plate to be appended to it by a chain still more directly commemorative & detailed.
& the whole would form a monument to the honor of bol Gibbs which would be a fit counterpart of that to the venerable & eminent artist & both would be revered & admired & the memory of both would be [illegible]
long as Science & the arts are [illegible]