Grandma is astonishingly well. The Lands and Henry Stevens are to be with her this summer. Mr Kirby Stevens went out in the Henry Clay to take Albert, to place at school in Geneva, and Albert Gallatin and Johnnie Stevens to travel with him for six months. The little man and Mother had quite a time of yesterday. The streets were so full that they could hardly get up, and I think Mrs Langlois would have been rather amazed to have met him with Mother on his arm. He was engaged to spend the evening and he will get into a scrape if they find out that he was here till nearly one o'clock. His affairs to not seem to be progressing from what I can see. His sister is at the Island and sent her love to you. Gerry Van Rensallaer is engaged to Julia Lowndon. They are to be married in a year and live on $1500 dl.

Monday. Mother is very busy arranging some flowers which George has just brought in from Grandma's. She returned yesterday about half past seven and brought Scharfy with her, whom she had met on board the boat. Josephine was here and Mr Cinna came in after church, so we had a regular evening of it until half past twelve. The Belles were all delighted to have Mother down there and Mary Aunt Lawrence her to a degree. They enquired about all your concerns, and were very much interested in everything that related to you. They have heard lately from Louisa, who had just received Mother's letter, and was particularly gratified at your writing something in her letter. She said she supposed it hardly necessary to answer Mother's letter as we should probably miss it on the way. But I am afraid Mother's enthusiasm has entirely died away.
