by Lamnitz - It is to be of marble - 12 feet high, surmounted by an eagle and embellished with the insignia & arms of their corps - The greenwood cemetery has given us a beautiful spot for the purpose - The cost is to be $1000 - & I think there is no doubt it will be put through. It is to be done entirely by civilians as a testimony to their fellow citizens of the army. I have no word from Schaefenberg, yet but expect to hear from him before long - Write us as often as you can & let me know how your embarcations get on & when you yourself expect to get off - I suppose there is no doubt they will give you a furlough or leave of absence - The Morris' are well - They were much pleased with the monument - Charles' body is to be removed to their own ground, & there will be none buried under it -

The women folks will write this week - I saw the lithographic stone of Benny Roberts' battle of Chapultepec the other day - I will be done about the 1st of August & be very handsome -

Farewell
