Draft of "To the Researcher" microfilm target for use for collections owned by the Historical Society. Mag card #584965.

TO THE RESEARCHER

The primary objective of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin in issuing this microfilm is to make the Gibbs Family Papers widely available and freely accessible to researchers. Generally accepted research use of the collection is unrestricted.

However, the reader is cautioned that the Society, as exclusive custodian of the collection expressly prohibits the unauthorized reproduction of this material by any institution or individual. With the exception of brief extracts, permission to publish any unpublished material from the collection must be secured from the State Historical Society of Wisconsin. Some papers within the collection may be under copyright. Therefore, the researcher is further cautioned that neither the Society's exclusive ownership of the collection nor authorization to publish materials in the collection constitutes a conveyance of those literary rights not held by the Society. It is the responsibility of the author or h's publisher to secure permission from the copyright owners.

In citing the collection the researcher should credit the State Historical Society of Wisconsin as custodian of the original collection. The following is a suggested citation:
