can be conveniently obtained - and book it, state the nature of their business - who their friends are - and with what countries trading. - if the parties make any enquiries of you regarding business in China - state frankly that you have never been there - but that if they will address the house of [illegible] you will [illegible] they will receive full information - many parties will wish to order goods offering to make remittances on receipt of goods - this is a class of business we cannot undertake to do -, the following is the best plan to be adopted - Either send over gold silver or credits on good houses - Gold has not made a good remittance to China as that country produces the article to a large amount - Silver bullion is often sent from South America to China and does well - Mexican dollars are also sent over in large amounts & are probably the best mode of making a remittance, ~~[illegible]~~ I should be perfectly willing to receive orders in China from