depth. We did not descend more than 300 feet in consequence of the want of time and the great labour of climbing up and climbing down so many ladders. We were equipped in miners dresses with lamps & a guide and saw everything which was worth seeing. That enough we were when we came up. There is a mission church at Bagley but not much else that is interesting. We visited also the collection of models of mining machinery &c. I expect to leave this city about the middle of next week in the steamer for Prague to spend a week there and then to take the round to Vienna. I have a letter to Dr Stout of Iowa indeed still there.

I have not time now to say more: give my love to all at home and believe

Your affectionate son
