[1847. Nov.]

Mary Middlecott, (daughter of Richard Middlecott and Sarah his wife,) born 1673, was married about 1626 to Mr. Henry Gibbs, son of Chancellor Gibbs of Barbadoes, by whom she had 3 children born in Boston; Sarah, John, and Henry. After which Mr. Gibbs went to Barbadoes to settle his affairs there, and intended to return and settle in Boston. But his Father dying while he was there prevented it. He sent for his wife to come there to him which she did, but her two eldest children behind with Wm. Payne, her half-brother. Soon after her arrival there Mr. Gibbs died in 1702. She was again married (at Barbadoes) to Nathaniel Haggatt, Esq.

Sarah Gibbs went from Boston to Barbadoes with her father in law Mr. Haggatt in 1719, where she married Mr. Scott.

John Gibbs continued with William Payne, afterwards lived with Mr. Jeffries to learn Merchants accounts til 1717 or 1718, and in 1719 went to Barbadoes with his father-in-law Mr. Haggatt, where he died in 1720, a bachelor.

Henry Gibbs went to Barbadoes with his mother, returned in a few years to William Payne, live with Mr. Jeffries to learn accounts, went to Barbadoes, married and had children.
