road; the site of two most important military stations, and also the central point on the route, all all in the lands claimed by foreign companies, chartered or joint stock.

000634