My dear George

I must thank you at once for letters and enclosure of hair. It is curious how little it looks like that of an elderly man. I shall probably return it to you as unless it is to be mine to leave, I do not care to possess it. Why you have two articles containing hair of Washington and one a ring. Of the locket, is explained I suppose, by the locket having been given by my mother to your father, and the ring Jessie Theodore having received it among the articles which he wrung from Mr. Brewster. I should like to know about this, as you can see that it seems unlikely that it
