than from that he has read. Sykes ought to be sent at once as Minister to Peru, for the honor of the country, and our pleasure & instruction.

The after was not bad, for he forgave that so much food for the mind needed a corresponding aliment for the body, and provided abundantly in both amount & delicacy. The champagne flowed as freely as though it had only to be brought from the pump.