1873

New-York Historical Society,

Library: 170 Second Avenue:

New-York: Jan. 3. 1873.

My dear Mrs. Gibbs,

I send by mail this day for your acceptance, several copies of our Memorial of your honored and beloved husband, which I have lately caused to be printed, as a tribute of affectionate personal regards most cordially rendered by us all.

He was one of my earliest and best friends in New-York and I shall never cease to cherish his memory with constant, grateful and loving zeal.

If you shall desire to have any additional copies, and will signify your wish to me, I shall take great pleasure in sending them forward. Most of the family have been supplied either by Mr. Stevens to whom I have sent a number of copies, or my own distribution; which I shall be