by the way of the Palais and Park of St. Cloud. I have also visited the "Gobelins" where the famous Tapestry is made. I will tell you all about it when I get home.

I am very anxious to hear how you have succeeded in the matter of getting a home. I have had no letters for three weeks. They are kept in London for me.

Breakfast is ready so I will say good bye. I will write again from London.

Lots of love to all.

Your Affectionate Son

George
