I have no digested plans for you and wish you to prepare for the future with the same deliberate whether Vegas or a farm should be your destination. In the mean time all enquiries will be made by W. Buchanan and ourselves to enable us to act without rashness.
I feel much confidence in the purpose of your mind to ask with manliness light may or may not go out again.
If you can so govern your mind as to prepare for Vegas without either your heart too much upon the fulfilment of your wishes it will be wisest and best, one sometimes sets a value upon that they have sought long or the convinced it is best to follow it up.
I do not recollect if I told you that Elvira dined with us Thanksgiving day and had the little girl baptised by Mr. Boyd. Laura Wolcott
We shall dine with her Christmas and shall all miss our Frank.
If Ary are invites you to dine accept by all means. Wolcott will perhaps go to Washington for his week of holiday. he will have one week. no more. perhaps will not have time to get out to see you. your aunt Sarah has not paid for the pigs. did you send the bill for them? Mrs Wolcott comes Prompt. he will not find time to go out to see you. but he will leave for you at St. Paul's a little Christmas or New Years box which will contain some agricultural pictures, and my good Boy all of you have any lady friends among in such matters for instance one of the Misses Kahn. I shall like much to have them sent or carried by you. Elvira comes up tomorrow. be dine with her Christmas. I wish I had my boy. but I give him a kiss and many Christmases. Mother.
